Bren Gun Battle

Jerusalem Prison Break

Jerusalem, Feb. 20.-Armoured cars of British police and parachute troops swept through the central streets of Haifa today, engaging battling groups →of Arabs and Jews with Bren } gun fire, while the wounded crawled away over piles of broken glass to shelter.

Police and army posts joined in the battle, trying to silence groups of snipers crouching on roofs and in the windows of houses.

Shells from a Jewish mortar battery exploded in the eastern railway station, in the market place and inside the perimeter of policehendauarters. The fighting was still going on at 10 p.m. local time tonight. First offical reports listed four dead and over 50 wounded. Twelve Jewish prisoners

MARSHALL'S STATEMENT

Washington, Feb. 20.—Mr George Marshall, Secretary of State, strongly criticised the Chinese National Government and its methods of managing economy and running the civil war when he appeared before the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee today to ask approval of the $570 million aid programme to China.

"The United States should not by its actions be put in the position of being charged with direct responsibility for the conduct of the Chinese Government and its political, economic and military affairs," Mr Marshall declared.

Mr Marshall made his statement in response to Republican criticism that the present programme was inadequate and that military aid should be added to the material and economic assistance already envisaged.

Big Freeze Grips Europe

London, Feb. 20. — Europe froze hard today in the third day of bliter winter weather as a moss of cold air moved west-ward from Russia, bringing with it a trail of feed roads and snow.

Berlin recorded 25 degrees of frost and still lower temperatures were forecast for tonight but tomorrow was expected to be slightly warmer.

In Moscow, 1.4 degrees Fahrenheit-30.6 degrees of frost

-was recorded. The coldest town in France was Macon, with 18 degrees of frost. In Britain, the freezing weather was expected to con-tinue unbroken day and night as far as weather forecasters could see ahead.—Reuter.

The report is becomingly cautious in estimating the prospects of increased and more profitable trading between Britain and China, wisely insisting that prerequisites for any appreciable expansion are peace and economic stability within the country. A chapter is devoted to Hongkong, full of interesting opinions and containing a number of suggestions. The chief recommendations are that a United Kingdom Trade Representative be sent to Mongkong: the Trades Union Congress should consider sending an experienced representative here to advise labour leaders on the organisation of their unions: everything should be done to reestablish the Hongkong University: Hongkong should be regarded as an exhibition for British goods, and used as such; relations between the trading interestsand the Government-of the ·Colony and South China should be brought even closer than they

In And Out Parliament

By Ernest Thurtle, M.P.

R BEVIN'S foreign Mairs speech did not stir the Commons to enthusiasm, yet it would be unfair to blame him for that.

The story he had to tell was essentially one of diplomatic defeat. Defeat due in the main to Russian obstruction, certainly, but nevertheless defeat, and that never arouses enthusiasm. Moreover, the speech was long, it was read, and it was not noticeably illumined by the flashing phrase.

Listowel's Visit Hongkong

"CANDIDUS"

CCORDING to Lord Listowel, Minister of State for Colonial Affairs, who will shortly visit Hongkong, the problem here is "acute and difficult in many respects."

Once again, a statement by a British Government Minister reveals a total lack of understanding or knowledge as to what exactly is Hongkong. It is good, however, to know that such an important personage intends to seek first-hand information, and it is to be hoped that the information gained will serve some useful purpose in enlightening the British Government as to the importance of, and necessity for, Hong-

It can be said that in spite of many handicaps, mostly governmental, Hongkong progressed amazingly in its first century, and has set an example to the world in general and China in particular. Its primary role is that of fostering trade between China and the rest of the world, and that the Colony has successfully filled that role none can deny.

Furthermore, it demonstrates the best that Western culture has to offer, and above all sets an example in sound government and administration. Freedom of speech is as jealously upheld here as in any other enlightened. part of the world, and citizens of all races and creeds are free to come and go and enjoy the protection of British laws which make no distinctions.

IT is only natural that 'comparisons should be made between this Colony and China, but it is regrettable that the chaotic state of our great neighbour should present such an obstacle in fostering mutual, friendship and prosperity. - The American Ambassador spared no words in condemning the extreme reactionaries and extreme radicals There was a deal of adroit legal who, regardless of the suffering of argument following this opening the people, add fuel and yet more fuel to the commotion and disorder, which not only disunite the masses

Manila XI To Play Three Games

(BY "SEE TEE")

Manila hold the stage this week-end. This afternoon Hongkong play Manila in an unofficial Interport match. The match, which will be forty minutes each way, with an extra ten minutes each way if necessary, is to be played on the ground of the Hongkong Football Club, Happy Valley. The kick-off is at 3.30 p.m.

Ten minutes later, when a harmless punt from Chu lodged comfortably in the back of the visitors' net to make the score 4-0, there was very little interest left in the game. Sing Tao lost Ho, their outside right, after less than a quarter of an hour's play, but they had little difficulty in collecting all the goals they wanted. It is true that Shanghai bucked up in the second half, but it was too late then. Well before the end a crowd, which had hurried to Caroline Hill hoping to see some keenly contested soccer, was streaming out of the ground, wandering nimlessly between the enclosures and the playing pitch, thereby blocking scated spectators' view, and finally holding up the play. When you add to this the fact that one of the linesmen sauntered to his apportioned piece of line with his flag in one hand and a elgarette in the other, you will realise that last Tues-

Quite simply, a silhouette is merely a black shape outlined against the light. In most snapshots we try to have the light falling on the side of the subject that the camera is nimed at. In making silhouettes we reverse this process. The light is behind the subject and we picture the shadow side.

Have women killed the thriller?

By George Malcolm Thomson

HATEVER has happened to our writers of thrillers?
Have they all died, or retired on their ample savings? Why do they write no more?

Having watched the stream of post-war fiction flow, or rather trickle, past, I can recall hardly one example of this ancient popular and surely most estimable type of story. What is the explanation?

Is it associated with the remarkable ascendancy of women in modern novel-writing? For we can nssume that no woman wants to write a thriller, or could do so if she tried. On the other hand women can—and Miss Vera Caspary

BAO DAI ON WAY BACK TO HONGKONG

Paris, Feb. 20.—Bao Dai, ex-Emperor of Annam, today left Cannes, on the French Riviera, by plane for Geneva. He is on his way to Hongkong.

Bao Dal went to Cannes last week after it was announced that his projected discussion with M. Emile Bollnert, French High Commissioner for Indo-China, on a French cruiser in the Bay of Along, off the coast of North Indo-China, would take place shortly.

Last week in Paris, Bao Dai had conversations with the French Premier, M. Robert Schuman, and other Ministers and officials on the terms of a peace settlement - in French Indo-China, where fighting has been going or for over a year between French forces and Indo-Chinese Nationalists.

In January, Bao Dai met M. Bollaert in Geneva for talks which were believed to include the return of his throne.

Complete Independence

Commenting on the recent conversations in Parts between the French Premier and Bao Dal, the Vietnamese (Indo-Chinese Nationalist) newspaper, Dani Minh, today said it had reason to believe that Bao Dai had asked for complete independence for a unified Vietnam, including the sovereign administration of Vietnamese diplomacy economy and finances, it was reported from Salgon.

A large-scale French offensive, even if successful, would not necessarlly entail political advantages, the paper wrote.

It added: "Is it the French Government's idea to exercise diplomatic pressure on Vietnam by means of military victories?"-Reuter.
